Godly Parenting — Part 6

“How You Treat Mom or Dad Teaches Them Love”

By: Chuck Wyeth

Parents, our children learn what love looks like by watching us.

They especially learn it by watching how we treat our spouse.

Ephesians 5:25 reminds husbands to love their wives as Christ loved the church.

1 Peter 3:7 teaches husbands to be considerate and to treat their wives with respect as fellow heirs of the gracious gift of life.

That means love is not just something we say. It is something our children see.

When there is constant disrespect between parents, it can create insecurity in children.

But when children see honor, patience, forgiveness, and respect between mom and dad, it helps bring stability into the home.

Your marriage becomes part of the emotional foundation of your home.

Challenge Question:

What are my children learning about love by the way I treat my spouse?

Prayer:

Lord, help me reflect Christ in how I treat my spouse.

This has been your Two-Minute Timeout for God.
