Two-Minute Timeout for God (Part #7)

“Your Words Become Their Inner Voice”

By Chuck Wyeth

Long after our children leave home, many of the words we spoke to them will still echo in their minds. Our words have power.

- A word of encouragement can build confidence.
- A word of kindness can provide security.
- A word of wisdom can guide them for years.

But harsh words can leave wounds that last far longer than we ever intended. Proverbs 18:21 reminds us, "Death and life are in the power of the tongue."

Now, that doesn't mean we never correct our children. Correction is biblical. God corrects those He loves. But there is a difference between correction and cruelty.

Correction helps a child grow. Cruelty tears a child down.

As Christian parents, our goal is not simply to control behavior. Our goal is to help shape hearts.

One day your children may forget many of the things you bought them, but they will remember how your words made them feel.

So before you speak ask yourself: "Will these words build up or tear down?"

CHALLENGE QUESTION: If my child repeated my words to themselves tomorrow, would those words draw them closer to Christ?

Prayer – “Lord, put grace in my mouth, wisdom in my tone, and love in every word I speak. Amen”
